

Governance pyramid

The constitution is one element, a high level element, of the governance framework. The development of policies and procedures guide decision-making and determine how outcomes are achieved. Policies will need to be developed to ensure appropriate and tailored implementation for SGLMG.